Projects

- Several HTML 5 web pages complete with multiple menus, and metadata and styled them with a CSS 3 style sheet to form a complete fictional sheet music website for a web authoring class. I am also in the process of creating my own portfolio website, which will be up very soon!
- Several console applications in C for class. In these assignments, we covered topics such as data structures (Binary Trees, Tries, Linked Lists, Structs, Heaps, Hash Tables, etc.), sorting methods (QuickSort, Merge Sort, Radix Sort, etc.), and concepts such as recursion and runtime and memory optimization.
- A few Java programs in class to practice OOP concepts such as inheritance, encapsulation, objects, classes, and polymorphism. Other concepts that were covered include Multithreading and efficient documentation research and recording.
- Currently, I have started doing some basic tutorials to get a general feel for Unity. I have been doing basic 3D tutorials on their site. I have also been working on a 2D sidescroller.

Technical Skills:

- Experienced with Windows (XP and newer), Linux (Debian-based distros), Android (4.1 and newer) and iOS(4.0-7.0) operating systems
- Familiar with Unity, Microsoft Office, Google Docs, Code::Blocks, Visual Studio Community 2015, Notepad++, Dreamweaver, SharePoint, and Bash.
- Experienced with deconstructing, upgrading, cleaning, and reconstructing desktops

Work Experience:

- Orange County FL Internet Systems and Services Division - Student Intern (September 2015 - Present)
I am responsible for creating new content pages on the Orange County Florida Internet page, as well as updating and maintaining pages on both the Internet site and the intranet site for the county. Most of my focus is on writing HTML and CSS, and working with Dotnetnuke and SharePoint. I also interact with clients around the county via phone and email regularly.

Personal Skills:

- I strive to be as friendly and personable as possible. I love working in a team environment and I get along well with just about anyone.
- I pride myself on being a quick learner who loves a challenge. I will throw all of my time and effort into a project that I am working on.
- I work extremely efficiently under high pressure and with tight deadlines. I'm very quick on my feet with coming up with solutions, and you won't meet anyone who keeps their composure under the gun better than I do.
